Extremism And The Political Press

Introduction

This fine collection of underground press, ephemera, miscellaneous publications and political extremist material offers an excellent opportunity to understand the nature of left wing politics in Britain and Europe during the 20th century. Much of the material comes from the personal library of the intellectual A. S. Richardson who was actively involved in the political turmoil of the 1960's, though he became increasingly disillusioned by the constant fragmentation of activism in the Trotskyist international movement. Known as the Fourth International, it rapidly became a number of warring splinter groups constantly sniping at each other's policies, well chronicled in the many different periodicals in this collection, some of which are quite rare.

There are fine runs of a number of noted publications, among them, Black Dwarf, Red Mole, New Left Review, Marxist Outlook, The Internationalist, Red Flag, Workers Vanguard, Internationalist Socialist Review, Workers Press, Keep Left, Socialist Current, Sous le Drapeau du Socialisme, Marxist Bulletin, Quatrieme Internationale, and Spartacist, as well as more arcane and unusual titles. The wide coverage should prove rewarding for any researcher or historian delving into the troubled history of Trotskyism and extremist politics. The collection affords an excellent opportunity to acquire materials both significant and scarce.
